She enjoyed showing her daughters, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren how to make homemade noodles. Her favorite pastime was playing 42, but she also played a mean game of straight dominoes, teaching her great-grandchildren how to play. She loved family time and enjoyed going to events that the grandchildren and great-grandchildren participated in.

She was preceded in death by her parents, Theodore and Clara (Menzel) Groeschel; husband, Ervin Lorenz; sons, Wilbert and Dennis; parents-in-law, Carl and Theresia (Vogel) Lorenz; brothers and sisters-in-law, Leonard and Velma Groeschel and second wife Wren, Norbert and Elvira Groeschel; sister and brothers-in-law, Leona and Raymond Wolff and Alfred Lorenz; sisters-in-law and brother-in-law, Alma and Alfred Menzel, Rudolf and Martha Lorenz, Leona and Milton Krakosky, Anton and Mildred Lorenz, and Ewald Lorenz.

Joyce, Geraldine, and family, my heart goes out to you. Your mom was such a beautiful person inside and out. I know you will greatly miss her, but I also know that she is playing 42 with Jesus right now.

“ Your mother could not have had a more loving and caring family. Anytime I visited with a family member, just the mention of her name brought smiles all around. No matter the age or circumstances, it hurts deeply to lose someone so loved and dear to a knit group. May God comfort you as you turn her over to Jesus' care. May all of you and those you hold dear realize the peace and comfort that only our Christ can give.

“ I worked with her wonderful daughter, Joyce, some years ago and she often spoke of her Mother in such a loving manner. One day she came to the office to visit and we were introduced to each other. Had a chance to visit a bit and it became clear how Joyce, her daughter, was a salt of the earth type lady. Her mom, Mrs Lorenz, was obviously an angel on earth. Even though I barely got acquainted and never saw her again I grieve for her family's loss but know they are so comforted by knowing she was one of the best here on earth and is now in Heaven.
