“ Grandma, I love you with all my heart. I know i'm lucky to have had you in my life and everyday for the rest of my life I will treasure that fact. My favorite memory I have of the two of us was in Arizona when we bought all the crafts so we could paint pictures. We were budding artists. You sat right along side of me as you painted yours and I painted mine. When we were done I showed you mine. I was proud and you looked at me puzzled and said "what is that?", I said "It's an angel!". You laughed at my picture so I said " Let me see yours." You showed it, I said "what is that?" You said "It's a dog!" and then we both laughed so hard we pee'd our pants. Neither paintings were identifiable but that was the greatest time and so much fun. I love you forever. Save a place for me at the karaoke table in Heaven.

“ Grandma,
You were and ALWAYS will be MY Lil Lady! I am so thankful to our Lord that he placed such a loving person in my life. The unconditional love you have provided to so many no matter what length of time you knew them speaks volumes. Family to you was not just blood, married or not we were all your babies. I will always cherish the memories of how happy you were to see the little ones. I will miss walking by your front door and seeing your face planted on the loud TV as you listened to the Gospel from morning to night. I will miss seeing you cup your ear and yell whaattt to me and then say something completely opposite of what I just told you or you say oh ok with a big smile on your face when I didn't even ask you a question lol. I'm gonna miss you saying Grace at Easter, Thanksgiving and Christmas, giving you a ride on my 4 wheeler and seeing you dance, which I've almost got down to a T :) The only comfort I have is knowing you no longer have to suffer, no more pricking your Lil fingers, no more shots, no more tons of pills morning and night no more aches and you can finally hear and see again, and especially knowing that of anyone, YOU are finally with our Lord where you have longed to be for so long. I just know you are finally so happy and rested. I love you with all my heart
Grandma,
Love ONE of your favorites,
Elizabeth
