“ We met in Texas during a missions trip from NH. She is an amazing woman right alongside her husband Jeff. I'm so sorry to hear of her passing. My husband and I kept talking about going down to see them. But, time just slipped away. May God ease the grief that everyone is feeling right now, knowing she is with Jesus right now. Jeff, we have been and always will be your friends. Thank you both for the amazing memories. Love you, your sister in Christ. Tru

“ We had 21 years of laughter, fun and many animals. To many stores to tell buy one at a time i guess.

We were at academy maybe 4yrs ago and i was caring aroud a game camra that i saw on sale. She came up to me and said you don't need that i probably argued or smarted off but kept it . While we were checking out she was baging when the gilril got the camera to scan and took off safty device. I looked in it because it was a retuned item when i noticed there were no i instructions .i told the lady i dont think i wanted it without those just. Angela loomed up and said your not going to read them anyway so i went ahead and bought it and we loved it . And that may be the only time i saw me winning for losing.. i thought it was hilarious. And here ar some of the pics of her I've been going through along with some of her most loved furr babies. If they load. I will see what stays because some are gone already “ Angela was precious beautiful soul w/ a big heart. We became friends in 8th grade & we became the best of friends. Angela was the kind of friend who you keep in your heart forever. I have so many fond fun memories, more than I can count. She was a wonderful friend. A friend to laugh w/, a friend to cry w/, a friend who had your back, a friend who truly cared. She was one of my best friends, she was the sister I never had, & at times a motherly voice. I will never forget her, in my heart she'll forever be. I wish she didn't have to go so soon. My heart is broken, my heart is sad, my heart doesn't want to say goodbye. She will be missed tremendously. My condolences to her Mother, Pedro, Tommy, Jeff, & to all those who love her. I love you Angela. Thank you for the amazing friendship, thank you for the countless memories, thank you for being a light in my life. You've truly been a blessing.
