“ My family will always remember Art as a kind-hearted, wonderful person. He dated my mother in the last years of her life, and was a comfort to her and us. Art became part of our family and I wish he could have had a stronger relationship with members of his own. I know he struggled these past few years and that he is in a better place now. I hope that brings some degree of comfort to the friends and family who dearly loved him as we did. Rest in Peace.
