“ Gramma... I've so many things to say about you, there's simply not enough words in this language to express my feelings adequately. I take great comfort in knowing that you knew exactly how I felt about you, and that we shared so many conversations over (probably too much) coffee. The loss of you is one of the greatest losses of my life, but the addition of you and Grandpa to my life was by far one of the most unexpected blessings I could have ever asked for. You adopted me as your own right away, and you inspired me to continue my education despite having 2 kids at the time... You said that "I could handle it". I love you so much for who you were to Michelle, the kids, and I. Simply irreplaceable. May God keep our family together during this difficult time without you both. Love you love you love you.
