“ Bobbie Mae always loved to hear stories of our world travels. One time she asked my kids if they would start bringing her rocks back from all the places we traveled. My kids never failed to pick her up just the right rock and Ray & I continued the tradition after they were grown. We always had to show her pictures of exactly where we found the rock. If anyone discovers a box of rocks somewhere, you now know the story! We will miss looking for rocks, but will probably still think of Bobbie Mae in our travels.... ❤️

“ Bobbie loved music and could play the piano. She even wrote a gospel song and shared it with me. She was a good friend and would try to help anyone she could. If she thought you needed food she would bring you food.
