“ I met Brian when he was a young boy. My parents had a craft business in Smithville and they would often be at the same shows as Tom and Wanda with her ceramics. Our parents showed together for several years and Brian and I would play together throughout the day while our parents worked their booths. I have many happy memories of playing with Brian. We lost touch when we were teenagers and stopped going to the craft shows with our parents. I am sorry for your loss and pray God’s blessings on his family and friends.
