

Charline Fleeger

September 13, 1931 - February 12, 2012

Charline Fleeger, 80 years young of Lexington, Texas, earned her wings and joined the love of her life in a joyous reunion on February 12, 2012. She was a loving and devoted military wife, mother, grandmother and great grandmother. She never met a stranger and loved everyone who came into her life. She is survived and sorely missed by her three daughters, one son-in-law, three grandchildren whom she loved each as one of her own including their spouses and nine great grandchildren that she adored. Memorial services are being planned for a later date in the near future. Those who wish to make a donation in lieu of flowers can donate to the American Cancer Society or the charity of one's choice.
