“ Cheryl, Cheryl, Cheryl. God that still sounds so sweet from my lips. I miss you so much, you took a heart that was bitter, withered & cold, breathed your life into it &,brought fire from a lump of coal. I started out with just another job to do, none could have guessed it would have turned into I Love You! This started out intending to be a memorial. That is not what it can be, its a Thank You. Thank God I met you. Thank you for loving me, thank you for everything. You will always be my love, my life, my beautiful wife. Until we are together again. I love you more today than I did yesterday.
Your Husband,
Roy Ates
