“ Danice was my protector when I started at Somerville in 1987. When I had phone calls from irate customers not wanting to listen to what I would tell them she would take the call and tell them the same thing and they would take it. Then an ex coworkers mom called me and started cussing me out for trying to take a message to give to them, well Danice to the rescue and let her know that was not acceptable. Martin would stand behind me and watch my work in the beginning and then Danice to the rescue telling him he needed to quit that. I learned a lot from Danice and she was always patient. She will be missed. Sending prayers for the family.
