So sorry for your loss Ruth and family. She was a beautiful person. I'm glad you two got to spend a lot of time together while in Houston. God bless you. Love you, Peggy and Alan

Thank you Peggy & Alan. She only knew she had cancer for two weeks, so didn't have to endure the nasty chemo & radiation. She went in the hospital thinking she had pneumonia and then they found her cancer, which probably originated in the colon and it had spread to her lungs. There was no pneumonia, just the cancer. She never left the hospital. I already miss her.

Thank you Stephanie. And yes, next time I am in Giddings, I will come by for a visit. I very much miss Giddings and, if my children and grandchildren were not living so close to me, I would move back to Giddings too. Thank you again.
