“ Edna was my best friend in school. She was my matron of honor when I got married. I introduced her to Emmett and was a bridesmaid in her wedding. We spent so much time in each others' homes that our parents started claiming they had another child. Although we lost touch with each other in the last few years, mostly due to her health and my job, we will always remain best friends. I will miss you so much Ed, and I am sad that you had to suffer so mch before you were called home. Tell Margie and Tom hello from their "other daughter" . Love you girl. Uncle Emmett, take pride in the fact that you never left her side and loved her in spite of it all.
