“ I had the pleasure of knowing Edward for 15 years. We first met, I at the side of Marcy and he at the side of the Lynette...both of us knowing we were in way above our "weight class". (Think Proverbs 18:22)

I found him to be welcoming and hospitable as Lynette's husband. He always seemed to be focused on the task at hand and resourceful beyond belief, but never too busy to extend a hand in friendship or to help. He was sagacious but never arrogant, the kind of man that I felt proud to speak with on a first name basis and to number amongst my friends.

To his kith and kin, know in your hearts, he will be greatly missed!

Grief never ends...But it changes. it is merely a pathway..., not a destination. Grief is not a sign of weakness, nor a lack of faith...Grief truly is the price of Love !

You are in my prayers, Lynette...you and yours...
