Our beautiful angel, loving and wonderful Mother and faithful servant of God, departed from the loving arms of her daughter, Kaye and into the welcoming arms of her beloved Heavenly Father on October 3, 2014. Effie was born November 25, 1915 to Una and William Morton, in Rockdale, Texas and moved to Dallas in 1964. Effie spent a long and happy life being a homemaker, devout Christian, active for many years at Cliff Temple Baptist Church, having been a Sunday school teacher, class President several times and many other elected positions, but most of all sharing life and doing things with her daughter Kaye. Friends say they shared the closest bond of anyone they knew, not only as Mother and daughter but as best friends, traveling, shopping, dining and just enjoying each other. Their love for each other was one of beauty. Effie was outgoing and friends remember her beautiful smile, which she had for everyone. Her hands were never idle, always busy cooking, making flower arrangements, being a professional seamstress, writing poetry and reading her Bible daily until her health began to fail. She wrote a book of inspirational poems and distributed hundreds of copies to friends and relatives. Effie cared deeply for her friends and family and was the most loving, kind and gently lady and will be missed. Effie lived the last six years at Grace Presbyterian Village. The family extends many thanks to Pastor Tom and wife Susie, who were so faithful coming to visit and pray daily with loving support. And also to the wonderful nurses and staff of 2 Jones for the exceptional care and love they bestowed on her. She loved everyone there and showed it with smiles, hugs and kisses. There is also much appreciation to the Hospice nurses and Chaplain who lovingly cared for Effie in her last days. The family is grateful for the love and support of the staff and many friends of Cliff Temple Baptist Church and Dr. Dan Griffin, her long time Pastor.

Effie is survived by her loving daughter, Kaye Roper Loomis and fiancé Jim McDaniel whom Effie loved like her own son as well as Jim's daughter Jina McDaniel; Kaye's step-daughter, Eris E. Loomis; Marion Hampton whom Effie called her own daughter; long time devoted family friend and attorney, David White; and relatives in Texas and St. Louis and many other close family and friends.

Memorials may be made to Grace Presbyterian Caring Fund, 550 E. Ann Arbor, Dallas, Texas 75216.
