

Eric Mason Brown

March 20, 1951 - July 16, 2015

Eric Mason Brown, 64, of Rockdale, passed away Thursday, July 16, 2015. In accordance to Eric's wishes, he was cremated. There are no services set at this time.

Eric was born March 20, 1951 in Pennsylvania to Ernest Mason and Dialah (Hinkle) Brown. He started his life as a dairy farmer and beekeeper. Later, he operated a printing press and transferred to Texas. Since his youth, his true passion was motorcycles. To many of his friends, he was known as the guru of bikes. He worked at Union Cycle Shop in Houston for eight years. He then helped his friend Bud open up Bud's Motorcycle Shop in Austin where he worked for years. Eric moved to Rockdale in early 2013 from Del Valle. Eric loved shooting his guns and riding motorcycles, and his favorite sandwich was grilled cheese. He was an avid reader reading a book a day and will be remembered for his sense of humor. He had a special knack for making people laugh.

He is preceded in death by parents; and sister, Rebecca Brown.

Eric is survived by his cherished daughter, Loren Chambers Brown of Rockdale; son, Zakariah Chambers of Bastrop; sisters, Melissa Brown, Robin Luhmann and Penny Wisell; and a host of friends and extended family that will miss him greatly.

In memory of Eric, open your throttle and let you pipes sing.

“ Brother of mine, you slipped in and out of our lives. You were never far from our thoughts. You went off to Texas and now you have gone again. Through the years we always know that we would see you again. You are still with me and I will still make you Christmas cookies. See Ya Later. Love from your little sister, P.Lee
