“ Brenda:

I always considered Jimmy one of my closest Caldwell friends. Even though we were one grade apart in school, that never had any bearing on our friendship. Jimmy was an extremely clever and funny guy that was a joy to be around.

I am now the last surviving member of the hunting threesome of Jimmy, Curtis Andrews and I that were hunting doves after football practice in the fall of 1958 when Curtis accidentally shot me with a 12 gauge shotgun. (He shot at rabbit.) Luckily, the grass between Curtis and me was tall enough that it slowed down the velocity of most of the shotgun pellets. After plucking the shot out of me, the three of us broke into the football field house under the stadium and Jimmy dosed me all over with methiolate. None of us told our parents (or many others) what had happened or that we had broken into the field house. But, over the years, the story leaked out.

Also, when the two of us were in Houston for an MYF meeting out close to the Rice campus, I suggested we ride the city bus down S. Main to downtown Houston to see a movie. When I mistakenly got us off the bus almost a mile short of the movie theatre, we had to run in the high humidity to make the movie. Years later, at some event, Jimmy asked me what movie we were going to see when I made that stupid mistake.. I told him that it was Three Coins in the Fountain and he simple nodded and said, "We both liked the movie"..

He was a great person and a great friend that I always looked forward to seeing whenever I visited Caldwell.
