“ John came into my life when I was about 12 yrs old and I will be 68 this year, so you can say he was in my life, all of it. He was married to my sister and they were there all of my life and I will miss them so. About 6 months ago he was still taking care of me. John was a good man, but sometimes he was wrong, but who can say they were right all the time. John you have touched a lot of lives. We will never will know, but God does. John, I love you and you will be missed. I am sorry for Mary and your three kids. A happy time I can remember was when you and Mary would come to mother and daddy's and you would have both boys under your arm and Mary would have Lynn. John I will miss you and thank you for giving me all the kindness you had. I love you and miss you.

“ Every time someone shines a flashlight in my eyes I think of Uncle John. He seemed to have this irresistible urge to pin you with a flashlight beam. He would do it to Aunt Mary all the time and she would yell, "JOHN ALVIN". Makes me smile every time I think about it.
