“ I met David through a friend of my wife's. He introduced me to tailgating and The Houston Texans. We went to many games, tailgating from when they open the gates to when they kick us out at the end (we did go in for the game in between). We went through a couple of grills, grilling so much the bottom fell out! David was also a participant in our Halloween Parties for over ten years straight! He was always the life of the party, the first one to sing karaoke and always willing to help out with the grilling (surprise). I am gonna miss my friend so very, very much!
