Very sweet. I got the privilege of meeting Johnny through my boyfriend, Scott Bidwell, who worked with him at Nutrena. He was such a gentleman, but a rascal too! So blessed that I got to know him for the short time that I did. He was one in a million and I will miss him so much. Loved his sarcastic remarks! He was always one step ahead of the guys and they deserved it! Rest In Peace Johnny! You're in a better place than us! You will be greatly missed!!!! Luv ya, Rita

Sincerest sympathy to John & Delores and all the family. I have known Johnny all his life and can never remember seeing him without a smile on his face. I had the privilege of getting to know him as a dear friend of my son-in-law, Gary Shaver. In the past years, wherever and whenever Johnny saw me he would always give me a big hug. He will be missed.

“ Johnny ~ A thread woven into the fabric of our lives. Always upbeat till the last couple of times our paths crossed. Then it was to indicate, he was tired of the medications, just wanted to let go and let God .[my words] We encouraged, not quitting the race, for not knowing what's around the bend. We learned he underwent at least another round of meds.

Johnny, one tough cookie ~ A son to make his mom and dad proud ~ his little mamma, Julie, proud as well. Don't think they could have asked for better.

Kids aren't supposed to beat their parents to the Pearly Gates. Sad when it happens. John and Dolores join the ranks of those who've lost their kids ~ not alone, are they. Thanking the Lord that John and Dolores are well entrenched in a solid relationship with John Jr's Lord and Master. John Jr was blessed to have no doubt in his mind that he was loved by his family. [Thinking of those kids who pass, without that assurance.]

*Johnny, a thread in the fabric of our lives. One of the stronger threads, though a tad shorter than many ~ helping us to be who we are today. Need to thank him for that, when next we see him. Johnny, if you can read this, say hi! to The Big Guy for us ~

“ Johnny was a sweetheart of a guy. We were in High School together. He took Auto Mechanics and I took Cosmetology and we rode that bus from Giddings to LaGrange for 2 years. Johnny loved playing cards and we had many, many fun times on that bus. He will always be a special friend and I will miss his smile and his warm heart.

“ *May God bless the entire Tonn family during this time of loss and grief. Johnny and I were classmates and I fondly remember the times that we spent in school. Later in our lives we worked for the same company and Johnny still could make me laugh with his frankness and sense of humor. Our Father in Heaven gives us eternal joy without pain or strife.
