

Joyce Clarice Simmons Phillips

April 21, 1932 - May 26, 2021

Joyce Clarice Simmons Phillips, 89, went to be with our Lord and Savior on May 26, 2021 at St. Joseph Hospital in Bryan, Texas after a brief illness. She and her twin sister, Joy, were born on April 21, 1932 in Tipton, Oklahoma. They grew up in Orange, Texas where they graduated from Lutchter Stark High School in Orange. She married after high school to George W. Barry and had two girls, Belinda and Paula Barry. George died several years later after being treated in an iron lung for polio. Later she met and married Robert Phillips, Sr. and they resided in Tanglewood, Texas for 57 years. Six years ago, she met Bill McMullen, they have been the light in each other's eyes and hearts ever since.

Joyce had many talents and she could sell anything. She was great at cooking and her special culinary creations delighted everyone, especially her church friends. She was also a good seamstress, gardener, and she had an eye for valuable antiques that was incredible.

She is preceded in death by her parents, V.D. and Fay Ola (Richards) Simmons; paternal aunt, Ruby L. Simmons; husbands, George W. Barry and Bobby Phillips, Sr.; son, Bobby Phillips, Jr. in 1992; sister, Emily Decker; and brother, Billy Simmons and Tommy Simmons.

“ We wanted to share our deepest sympathies with everyone who loved Joyce. Her care for, and friendship with, my grandmother made her last few years more fun and joyful, and that was just a small part of what Joyce meant to all of my family. She was a true friend and a treasure to everyone who knew her! Her kindness, humor and “sparkle”, made the world a better place, and she will be greatly missed!

Sincerely, Lisa Hooper/Stover
