I am the diamond glint on snow,
I am the sunlight on ripened grain,
I am the gentle autumn rain.

“ My name is Sammy McLure. My mother was Velda Maddox McLure. June was my first cousin. I can remember my mother talking about June when I was growing up that they played together because they were about the same age. My fondest memory of Junedell is that at Thanksgiving years ago when I was little at Aunt Stella and Uncle Vic’s house in Houston. Junedell had a cold and her nose was running real bad and she said “I have a basketball nose it dribbles.” I thought that was funny and it stuck with me and I would say it when I had a runny nose. Me and my wife send our condolences to JC and the family.
