“ To the family and loved ones of Kaitlyn, so young, so sweet, so much more that was left undone and now you will live on in the loved ones you have left behind. To your sister, my granddaughter Makayla and all the family, I want you all to know that Kaitlyn is only a moment away and always in your heart. When you are missing her as you will, just look to the heavens above, find the brightest shining star and there she is, looking down on you and watching over each and every one she had to leave behind. Too soon she was gone. God has a new angel and she is happy, healthy and suffers no more. With every drop of rain, catch it, for it is a tear from Kaitlyn, either from crying and missing you or from laughing so hard and remembering you and all the crazy things you did together. But whatever you do, however you cope with this loss, remember Kaitlyn is suffering no more and she'll be waiting to greet you with open arms when your time comes.

May your family find comfort in knowing you suffer no more, sweet, sweet Kaitlyn.

“ Kaitlyn Elise Hickman-Brady, Otherwise known as my bestest friend, this all has been so unreal to me. I'm still waiting to wake up one day and be able to call you and talk to you and the kids. This is a bad dream, right? You were way to good of a human, woman, wife, daughter, sister, aunt, mom, niece, friend, and oh my I can keep going on and on. Remember what we always said, if you die before me, ask God if you can bring a friend. I can't do this without you!! I love you and you send me so many signs so I know you are there watching over me. Thank God you are out of pain and in a more beautiful, peaceful place. I love you always! You were and always are my best friend. Rest in the sweetest peace beautiful! You must make the other angels look like dog poop. Lol until we meet again hunny xoxoxoxo. (Horn. Ah' 928) (Do you live in a bubbaloon) Love always, your best friend forever and ever Ashley Lynch

“ Kaitlyn I met you in 7th grade. When I was kept back I was miserable and not looking forward to starting over. When I started that year you befriended me and introduced me to your friends. I've never met another person so sweet and friendly. You were always so welcoming and always made me feel apart of. We became really close and I really can't believe your gone. This is so unreal. I can't even process that I was just talking to you and I can't anymore. After high school and you moved so we couldn't always hang out but we always stayed in touch. I just wish I could talk to you again. Love and miss you so much. I hope you know how much you are loved.
