“ I've known Kenny since I was 3 or 4. Later in his life I noticed how gifted he was with art. We went our separate way during the teen years. I was 10 days older than him. That's why it is so hard for me to accept his death. I got to visit him in 1999 and later had a phone conversation in 2021 or 2022. During the phone conversation he told me he was planning to move and drive around to find a place. I told him you don't have to drive around anymore. You can search online. He didn't know anything at all about the internet. So I guess he was more interested in creating art than understanding technology...sad. I would like to know how his life ended so early. He was a close childhood friend, a very gifted person, and left this earth too early.

“ Ken left this life with a double rainbow and a phainopepla. He was a good person, a dear friend who I won't ever forget.

“ Sad to learn of our friend's passing. Ken was creative, inventive, and entertaining. Many fond memories from years of friendship back to NTSU and W E Greiner days. Our sympathies to his family.
