“ Teaching with Kenneth was a learning situation for me. He was a very determined teacher. Very little could distract him from his goal or tasks for the day. He was the most patient and considerate teacher I have ever met. He taught his students many valuable life lessons as well. Kenneth lived his life as a Christian model for everyone he came in contact with. He showed patience, kindness, strength of character, forgiveness and unconditional love. The way he didn't waver from his Christian path was especially impressive because of his daily struggle with pain. Kenneth left this fabulous legacy for his children and grandchildren. I have personally witnessed Troy continuing in his father's footsteps at GISD! Well done good and faithful servant Mr. Kenneth. Enjoy your new life without pain.

I taught with Kenneth in Giddings. When I started he was one of the first teachers to befriend me. I missed his crazy sense of humor when he retired. He was a hoot. We will keep him and his family in our thoughts and prayers. You have our deepest sympathy.
