Luis Gerardo Rios was born on September 26, 1976 in Fort Worth, Texas to Manuel Rios & Maria Rodriguez. After graduating high school, he went to work in the oil field, and dedicated 28 years of his life to the oil field industry. He achieved his goal as a directional driller. Luis truly believed he had oil in his blood. He enjoyed working out, talking on the phone, hanging out with friends, and watching football, especially the Dallas Cowboys. When it came to grilling and barbequing, it was meat and beer, as it "added flavor". He will be remembered for his contagious smile, hard work ethic, and being a great dad that loved his kids.

He is survived by his parents, Manuel Rios of Fort Worth and Maria Rodriguez of Giddings; wife, Alicia Rios of San Antonio; four children, Karissa Rios of Houston, Cameryn Rios of College Station, Chasmine Rios of Austin, and Luis Rios Jr. of Austin; two step children, Alex Martinez of San Antonio and Sofia Villareal of San Antonio; three siblings, Manuel Rios Jr. and wife Juanita of
