

Marvin L Berry

November 3, 1926 - November 7, 2025

On November 7, 2025 at age 99, Marvin Louis Berry was promoted to heaven. He was born in Dallas, Texas on November 3, 1926 to parents Oscar and Martha Berry. He graduated from Reagan High School in May 1944 at age 17. Once he turned eighteen he was quickly drafted into the Army where he served in World War II. He was very proud to have served his country. He shared stories of the injustices he saw during the war as well as the kindness he experienced from other cultures.

In 1953 he met Wanda Smith while doing Evangelistic work with his brother Kenneth. On December 28, 1953 he and Wanda Smith were married. She always remained the love of his life. They were married one month shy of 72 years.

He believed in kindness and being thankful. Marvin lived life with quiet joy and deep love for God, his family, friends, and the beauty around them.

Marvin had a passion for reading, writing poems, art and music. From traveling, singing, to teaching his children music and endless sketches. He was gifted in so many areas. As an artist, his creativity touched countless lives. Marvin had a passion for color, form, and storytelling through his sketches. His art was not just a reflection of life — it was a conversation with it. Marvin's legacy lives on in every sketch and every soul moved by his work.

Marvin found joy in life's simple pleasures — family, laughter, and a pantry full of homemade jelly. He loved picking dewberries and making jelly to share with others.

He was preceded in death by his parents Oscar and Martha Berry; brothers Kenneth, Garvin and wife Betty; Brother in law Joe Calbat, niece Martha Lawanda Locke.

He is survived by his wife Wanda; sister LaVelle Calbat; children Dale, Doug and wife Terice, Glen, Carol Carney and husband Billy.

“ I will refer to Marvin Berry as Pawpaw cause that’s exactly who he was to me my paw paw, so many memories. How do I possibly narrow it down to one? I guess one of my favorite memories with him would be going to work with him in his old ratty van, and people always thought I was his daughter, and commented that I look just like him, even though I was adopted into this family people never knew that I was. I spent a lot of time at their house growing up on weekends, and enjoyed countless mornings of making his famously known cowboy biscuits, and his hot chocolate. I always enjoyed the times. He would tell me about all the things he got to do, and or witness in World War II. From pictures to letters to Money he saved from different countries that we still have in the family. From his gentle touch, and his sweet voice, to the goofy faces he would make, the Snapchats with filters him, and I used to do, and most famously for him and I would be playing the game sorry as he wrote in a letter to me when he was 75 years old. I will forever hold onto these memories and he will never be forgotten. I’m so happy that he has been promoted to heaven where he is probably up there making others laugh.
