“ *She spent her life caring for others and giving the best she had to offer.
As a daughter, a sister, a friend and as an aunt she gave more than she received.
She covered everything and everybody in prayer.
She was always available.
She never ask for nor wanted attention.
She was comfortable to stand in the back ground and help another to achieve their greatness.
She wasn't easily offended but she knew how and when to stand her ground.
She never had her own children, however, she mothered us all in her own way.
Her pride and joy became our accomplishments in life - our families and our joys were her celebrations as well.
She ask for very little and yet gave us so much.
Her heart was always open and her arms ready to receive who ever had questions, sought direction or had a need.*

*We will forever hold her in our hearts and take her with us wherever we go.
Aunt Irene you made a difference in this world and we are all proof of that.*
