

Randall E. Lazrine

March 13, 1958 - March 11, 2020

Randall E. Lazrine, Randy, or asshole, as he was known to his close friends and family, was born March 13, 1958 to Wanda and Charles Lazrine in San Mateo, California. He died comfortably at home, surrounded by family and his dogs on March 11, 2020 after a long battle with cancer and a wonderful life of having fun. He hitch-hiked his way across several states before landing in Houston where he met and married the love of his life Diane Lazrine on June 28, 1986 in Houston.

After marrying, they had two beautifully sarcastic kids Kristina and Jacob. While living in Houston, Randy was a stone mason building beautiful pools and other landscapes. In July of 1995, Randy and Diane decided to leave the busy city of Houston and move to Gause, Texas, where he built a beautiful home. In Gause, he took up gardening, hunting, and taking in any stray animal or human he came across many times, without his wife's permission.

Randy was known for being loud, stubborn, set in his ways, the life of the party, and the king of dad jokes before dad jokes were even a thing. He never met a stranger and had a heart of gold. Randy was loved by all and will be greatly missed by his friends and family. He is preceded in death by his father Charles and many close friends.

Randy is survived by his wife, Diane, daughter Kristina and son in law Brad, his grandson Mason, the joy of his life, his son Jacob and his daughter in law Jessica. He is also survived by many aunts, an uncle, many cousins and friends because all his friends were his family.

A celebration of life ceremony for family and friends will be held on March 15th at 1:00 pm at the Lazrine home in Gause. In lieu of flowers, please make a donation to Brazos Valley Hospice in Randy's honor.
