“ Dear treasured friend, Carolyn, how I miss you. Actually, I've missed you for awhile now because that old dementia is not a respecter of friends, families, or memories. I am so happy I got to talk to you on your last birthday, and that for a few sweet seconds, you knew it was I. You knew how much I loved you, and how much I wanted to see you, and I am sorry I did not get to make the trip to Angleton before you had to go. You have always been like a big sister to me, we made lots of memories and we covered many a mile both on the roads and in the pastures of central Texas. I miss digging in the dirt with you. Walking in the 100 acre woods. Planting trees and flowers. Dancing and dressing up at Halloween. Going to church together. Sitting on the deck sipping Red Zinger and smoking a cigarette (occasionally for me) with you. Even building fences in August in the "briling" sun. I shall always treasure having had you for my friend and sister. I wish I could have helped choose the picture for your obituary, I have such a lovely one of you. And it grieves me that your name is misspelled, but I can't do other than spell it the way it should read here, Rayma Carolyn Caraway Martin ~ Love always, Jeanie
