“ It is hard to imagine the SCS without Rhonda. I remember her as always happy to lend a helping hand and do whatever was asked of her. She was kind and caring, and I know her impact on those she encountered will live on.

May you experience God's comfort and love in tangible ways during this season of loss and mourning.

“ Rhonda started out three years ago as our pet/house sitter and became part of our family very quickly. Our big dog Brandi would get so excited when Rhonda would come over, and would want to leave with her as Rhonda would take her in the car when she was making Avon deliveries. Rhonda was one of a kind and always happy to sit with our pets whenever she was available. Our hearts are broken and we are having a difficult time coming to grips with her death. Our thoughts and prayers are with all of her family and friends.

*Rest in peace Rhonda,

“ Rhonda was one of the sweetest people I've known. I feel very blessed to have known her. Her dedication to her mom and dad was amazing as well as her love for animals. I know she is enjoying the company of Edna and Jimmy as well as her beloved animals. She loved the Lord and I know he is glad to have her home! Rhonda you will be missed very much.

“ Rhonda was often responsible for keeping HelpLine running. HelpLine, a peer-support phone line for Texas A&M which provides information, referral, support, and crisis assessment and intervention, serves hundreds of Aggies per year. Rhonda covered the HelpLine when volunteers attended training or were being appreciated for their service, often giving up nights or weekends to keep the line staffed. Speaking for HelpLine as a former student and volunteer, Rhonda will be missed. Her dedication to providing Aggies with an uninterrupted outlet for voicing their struggles and support is remembered and lives on in the life of every Aggie she helped.
