“ Scott was one of my dearest friends. Ever the optimist and always supportive. Although I hadn't seen him in quite a while, since we lived so far apart, Every time we spoke it was like old home week. It was like we never missed a day. He was the most sincere and caring person I've ever known. I'm so glad I spoke with him last week, and privileged to know him all these years. My heart aches, for I have lost a great friend, and his family a great man.

“ Scott was a great trooper he understood the legion message that besides helping people it is about making people smile. He was great at doing that in and out of the uniform/armor. I enjoyed trooping with him cause like many in CTX we get goofy in our armor and try to do something that would bring out a laugh even when he was in alot of pain sometimes. Scott and I would also chat/comment on posts on each others wall on a wide ranch of topics from nerd stuff funny pictures on tv shows or movies. But he also posted more serious topics that were related to his posts from his radio show or current events. I think I enjoyed those the most and will miss the most. You will be missed Scott you were a great trooper and friend.

Thanks, Randy!! I'm Scott's brother. Scott was an extraordinary human..... when he wasn't sand trooping. I know that Scott was in a lot of pain, but he refused to take any pain killers. He stayed positive. I really miss him. Peace!!

Allow me to clarify: Scott was an extraordinary human..... when he wasn't sand trooping..... only because sand troopers weren't from Earth. So, when Scott was sand trooping, he was an extraordinary humanoid being!! ;o)

“ Cara, I am so very sorry for your loss. Your grief will never ever go away but with time it will get easier. So far now, lean on your friends and family as much as you need. You have to be prepared at any time a smell, a song, a date on the calendar can take you back to that moment that everything changed, Remember there is room for saddest and joy; sorrow and hope to exist in the same space at the same time. Your memories are yours to hold forever. God Bless You. Lonnie & Ruby Clinard

“ The first time I met Scott was at one of our Legion lunches. I was not a full fledged member at the time and so was a little apprehensive about meeting the new people. Scott was one of the first that I started talking to and I was amazed at how easy he was to get along with! I have had a couple chances to serve with him at events before he was in too much pain to go and I loved every second of it. Seeing him perform his magic is part of the reason I joined the 501st and I will think of him every time I am in that armor!
