“ Mr. Bill “Bu” is my son’s godfather and my only friend for 19 years. I’m blessed for having met such a wonderful person. He would share of his love for football in high school, GIS career and how he loved having come home back to Caldwell. His love for his parents, sister and nephews were entwined in his shares. I love you too, Bu.

Hi Luz, I am sorry for your loss. William introduced me to you and your family at dinner in May 2015 when he took me to San Antonio. If you still remember me. I am very shocked to hear about his passing. I found this obituary after I didn’t hear from him for a while. He was a great friend.

“ Our hearts are just broken to hear of Bill's passing. He was such a great friend to us for so many years. He stood by my husband at our wedding as best man...and that he was. We miss him so much. Prayers to the family for the loss of Bill.

“ Good memories of Bill will forever be with me.

There are simple things, like wearing that black leather jacket that he loved, driving his Mustang with the windows down, listening to SRV - just hanging out, watching his favorite 1980s movies, and the way he would laugh emphatically at punchlines. We also had profound conversations at times: politics, philosophy, culture, dreams, religion, God; and I knew him to be a man of principle. We worked construction together, were college roommates, and he was a groomsman at my wedding. He was there for me, and I realize now that he was also looking out for me. He was more than a friend; he was like a big brother.

Sincerest condolences to the Savage family,

“ I have such fond memories of Bill. My grandmother, Cleo Moore, was good friends with his family. She introduced me to Bill. Whenever I came to Caldwell, I would be sure to meet up with Bill. We went to movies together in Bryan. We went to local places to eat. We would go to his house (his parent's house) and play music to sing along and dance. He introduced me to the J. Geils Band.

He came to Dallas once to visit me. Again, we played music and he gave me a CD of New Order, which is still one of my favorites.

We also took a trip to San Antonio with my boyfriend at the time where we went dancing until really late at night. We also went rock climbing outside of San Marcos.

What a fantastic smile. What a great laugh. A gentleman, but also very fun to be around.

We lost touch as we got older. I tried reaching out over the years, but was always unsuccessful. I'm very sad that I didn't get to see him.

My prayers are with his family. I'm so sorry for your loss.

“ Dear Savage Family, I am sorry about your loss.

Bill was my friend for over thirty years. He was a dear good friend.

"Bill was there for you when you needed a friend to talk".

Bill loved music; he introduced me to Peter Gabriel music. there were times when we just got together just to listen music. So many good memories I have of Bill. The last days, he told me he enjoyed his home, how it was lovely and quiet there.

Bill loved to see the stars on a clear night. The sunflower fields, the sunsets. He liked to track the space station and knew exactly where to look up on the sky. He loved his pets, his cat, the chickens.

He loved to spend time with his family. How he loved to work alongside his father fixing the roof and some other Maintenance around their home.

He loved to watch TV with his family on Sundays.

He loved his mom's homemade meals.

He loved that his sister and brother-law- were nearby.

I miss him already.

With Deepest Sympathy,

May you have memories for comfort,

Family and Friends for support, and

Faith to ease your sadness,

"Come to Me, all you who labor and are burdened and I will give you rest." Matthew 11:28
